PARIS, May 14, 1870.

Finis coronat opus. The overwhelming success of the appeal to the people, has just ified the provisions of the Emperor. After twelve months of invectives, the various shades of His Majesty's opposition have only been able to muster one and a half millions of votes.

expression of the national will, and if the conquered party will but consider their own good and be wise, relinquish the violent hate of personal politics, give a long pull, a strong pull, and a pull altogether, France has before her a future of glory that will put into shade the brilliant reigns of Louis XIV. Napoleon I. The French have a proverb: when one has not what they love, it is necessary to love what one has—if it were as

The sensible portion of the democratic press wipe their swords and honorably admit a lost battle. But the incendiary papers congratulate themselves on a triumph! Asinus fricat. The majority consists in the opinion only of Boelians. But this meagre opinion humor may be pardoned—every condemned has twenty-four hours to curse his judges. more and more and more and more the opposition journals did not find some in the canteens. But it must not be concluded that the soldiers in voting "No," are partisans of the revolutionists. On the contrary, the hostility expressed is a demonstration against some of the unpopular acts of the Minister of War, Marshal Niel, whose motto was, "the army is myself." The Emperor, on visiting the barrack, along with the press, where one half of the soldiers were where the polling was fair and free. There were no urns with false bottoms, or substitutes for ballot boxes, in the shape of a thirteen or a gendarme's boot.

It would be marvellous if the election passed off without a demonstration. On Wednesday evening, after the third day of agony, revolution breathed its last sigh. During this time, some bayonet wounds were inflicted, and heads laid open with p ones and bottles. The ghost of a b

About 400 arms have been made, but out of this number, fifty will be arraigned. Daggers and knives were the principal arms found on the insurgents, who count two deaths, and the butchery of these saviours of their country attracted some 1,200 mourners, who made very violent demonstrations.

The Minister of Police made an appeal to the good sense of the Parliament—a very known element in their character, to keep within doors. It was just the thing wanted to retain them in the street. To see a revolution is such a curious spectacle, that the rheumatic and paralytic of several months lying, did take up their beds and walk to view the fun. From the frequency of these exhibitions, you might imagine Paris had a more than Gargantuan stomach for shell-fish, but the secret is, the collection is hired out at so much an hour. It is a sort of harmless fraud—a the window shops on the verge of bankruptcy, negotiators for a dozen barrels of Bordeaux, to be displayed before his door for a day, or the Dr. good man, during a morning trade, isalms unpacking bales in front of the shop, blocking up the pathway, to reckon at night is the back premises. An Internal Crime.

The crime charged against a man named Lange, a dealer in pig iron in New York, is one that should give a presentiment to the criminal classes for its heinousness. He charged a box in April last on the New Orleans steamer, and secured an insurance on it of one thousand five hundred and fifty dollars, and the box proved to have been packed with explosives and in full of dynamite. Lange was a man of four, burning the ship with the watchfulness and activity of the captain. In the box were vessels of alcohol, gasol and turpentine, and the fire was apparently to have been set to these by a chemical that would explode with slight friction. The friction was provided for by mice shut in a box, in knowing their way out. Here, then, is the man that might have been the ship and all her company at sea. Were, then, it is the charge proved true, a man who deliberately charges that awful calamity, fire on a ship at sea, and the possible frightful death of twenty or thirty persons to secure the small sum of sixteen hundred and fifty dollars of insurance money? He should be tried by a jury of sea captains and sailors. It is a remarkable coincidence that the crime was attempted against the steamer George Washington, while some years since a crime of the same nature was committed in the ship of the same name on the Mississippi steamer, Martha Washington.

Prisoner.—An Indian assaulted another, and the information was given to the judge. The judge ordered the sheriff to bring the parties before him. The sheriff returned without them.

Where are your prisoners? asked the judge.

"I caught them," replied the sheriff.

"What did you do with them?"

"I gave the defendant fifteen lashes."

"What did you do with the plainiff?"

"I gave him fifteen, too."

"What with the informer?"

"Why, I gave him twenty-five lashes—nor had he his tongue there."

It would be well if all the dispensation of justice were as equally and as promptly administered.

"I never got through," said one: "I spend my judgment in settling accounts."

"The day of judgment will be spent in the same way," said the reply.

Never throw a stone at any one unless you have looked to see whether there is a window behind, or you may have to pay dearly for your revenge.

Meat loses from one-fifth to one-third of its weight cooking. Lard is the most economical mode. Fat is the best of beef, but it is difficult to find. It is best to use a pound in baking, and one pound in roasting.

A Whiskey-drinking Irishman was brought before a magistrate named Porter, charged with being drunk and disorderly.

The magistrate committed the delinquent to prison for a month, telling him he would give him time enough to cure whiskey.

"Ten faith," was the prisoner's reply, "and Porter too."

A young married couple in a Wisconsin town lately began housekeeping, and the first paragraph of the head of the family at the village grocery was: Five cents worth of soda, five cents worth of salt, two cents worth of pepper, and one cent worth of soap. The bill amounted to twenty-five cents, which was paid by the young Benedict in specie, and as he left the store he remarked that "keeping house is cheaper than boarding."

The Great Multitude, which no man can number.—Rev. vii. 6.

Above the clouds and stars of heaven.

The heavenly multitude stand;

It is the multitude of the living,

Unchanged by mortal hands.

Their robes are of the purest white,

Washed in atoning blood.

Their aspect, glorious and bright,

Is the image of the Lamb.

From worldly cares and mortal strife,

From bondage and from fear.

From fiery trials forth they came,

And all adoring stand.

Unquenched their fervent heavenly flame

By temporal's stormy blast.

Through tribulation great and long

Troops from every land,

Join in the everlasting song.

And all adoring stand.

A shining, pure, and spotless white,

From deeps a crimson dye.

A verdurous change appears to sight.

By baptism from on high.

A ransomed, holy, countless host,

From every clime, and clime.

Now saved from the condemned and lost.

Through the Crucifixion's blood.

A branch of palm in every hand.

A crown on every head.

For victory, conquest, and perfect hand.

Attain to glory now.

Not only do they priesthood claim,

But reign on earth as kings;

Our right and title is the same.

From earth to heaven it springs.

Angels and saints they feel no more.

For they are all the same.

Where they have reached the heavenly shore.

Where death itself is dead.

By faith we follow them on high.

With patience from on high.

The promised land is before us.

When ours shall be the day.

Nearest the throne, and still more blest.

From the New York Sun.

The unfortunate man arrived in New York in the steamer "Erle" in the spring of 1867. He at once sought employment with a view to earning money to pay off his indebtedness, and save the honor of his family name. The purpose he kept steadily in mind through various vicissitudes. After enduring unspeakable hardships and humiliations, he got work with a rich farmer named Young, living near Milton in Ulster county. He hoarded his earnings to pay off his debts. For a time

On Thursday afternoon last, as Mr. Hanrahan, the once prosperous Irish landlord, the still educated gentleman and the victim of such treachery as we have described, was passing along Park row with his placard on his back, he slipped and fell upon the sidewalk, and through sheer feebleness was unable to rise. A crowd of boys gathered around and jeered at him. He did not stir, but passed his hand over his eyes and wept.

"If God spares our lives," said the old man, with kindling eyes, my boy and I will soon pay off the last farthing and I can go back to my dear old home in Ireland. I hope it will not be long first, for I want to see the old spot once more, and lay my bones near those of my father's which I cannot do, if I left a stain on the family name."

"And that is the story of an honest old Irishman."

A Paris policeman, the other day, being

A celebrated Doctor, Carver, who just died, was a "medicine man" to the Ojibwa, and certified at the twentieth hour, when an article was published, that he was a model of a physician. The writer of the article, who was himself a physician, was writing. He left his gun, saw the patient, prescribed rest and a bark tonic, and a few days later he was a bank note for a 1000 fr. francs, and the Ojibwa's life—a model of a physician in the end of life to be taken as required.

It is the custom in France for all editors to attach their names to their writings as a proof of their obliging disposition, a deceased editor appends his signature to an article three days after being interred. #### Duties of Policemen.

A correspondent calls attention to the erection of frame buildings on Front street, contrary to the By-law, and asks us if it is not the duty of the policemen to arraign those parties who violate the By-laws of the Town. Most assuredly it is their duty. Policemen are appointed specially to maintain order, preserve the peace, and see that the laws are executed. If they see a nuisance committed which the law punishes, it is their duty to bring the offender before the Magistrate. If they see signs projecting over the sidewalks, in violation of the By-law, it is their duty to order them removed. If they find wooden buildings put up within certain limits, prohibited by law, it is their duty to have them removed. If they see men fighting on the street, it is their duty to take the combatants and place them in a safe keeping. If they find the sidewalks littered with boxes and bales, kept there for the purpose of a show, it is their duty to direct the walks to be kept clear. If they see tavern keepers open their doors for drinking on Saturday night or on Sunday, it is their duty to have the violators of the law arraigned before the Police Magistrate and punished.

It is for this purpose policemen are appointed and paid. Citizens don't want to be informed that they want the laws of the Town enforced, and they pay policemen to do it. If the men composing our present force don't know their duty, it's time the Magistrate gave them their lesson. If they know it, and don't perform it, it's time they were replaced by those who will not merely understand their duty, but will have the moral courage to perform it without fear or favor.

From Fort William.

The Toronto Telegraph's correspondent sends the following dispatch from Thursday:

Six loads with a party of the 60th Rifles started this morning to try and get through to Shebandawan by the Kamistiquia. Opinion is divided as to their success. Forty horses also arrived, making one hundred and twenty in all. Another fire has occurred up the road, the bridges were threatened, but saved, and only four barrels of pork and three of flour were destroyed.

Col. Wolsey with Col. McNell, goes up the river to-day, and the men will shortly follow. Col. Wolsey has received orders to leave for Fort Garry with all the regular troops by the 30th of August.

The Wesleyan Conference.

SIXTH DAY.
WEDNESDAY, JUNE 7.

Rev. Dr. Green, who had been deputed to present the address of the Conference to the Governor General, gave a report of his visit to His Excellency. The Doctor said that he was very cordially received, and was entrusted with a very gracious reply to the official address, which he had the honor to present, which reply he had the honor to present.

It was stated that certain ministers of the Conference had withdrawn, with a view to connect themselves with some of the Conferences of the Methodist Episcopal Church in the United States. The names of said ministers are Rev. T. Cleghorn, H. Brewster, W. W. Clarke and James Moss.

A discussion took place, and it was regretted that so many ministers should withdraw from the Conference.

Communications respecting a Union of Methodists were received, and the Conference directed that the Committee of next year should be the Committee of the present, who should confer with the Committee of any or all of the Methodist Conferences, who shall appoint Committees.

The Committee are the following: The President of the Conference, Co-Delegates and Secretary, the Revs. Dr. Wood, Green, Ryerson, Senator Tiesler, Senator Pylson, Senator Aikens, Messrs. E. Jackson, Hamilton, J. Macdonald, Toronto; and R. Chown, Kingston.

The Manufacture of Sails.

For many years, a great desideratum amongst business men was an article which, while combining the security of heavily plated iron, for the security of their books, papers and money in case of fire, would yet be sufficiently light in construction to be easily transported in case of removal, and bear with impunity the attacks of burglars. The desired object, the honest mechanic and scientific skill were called into requisition, and it was not until years of labor, experiment and expenditure of capital that the difficulties in the way were conquered, and the great fire and burglar proof safe at last invented.

Among those who have labored in this direction, is Mr. C. Edwards (successor to Kennerly & Edwards) of Montreal, who has at length, by patient skill and persevering enterprise, succeeded in perfecting a safe, which is now manufactured at his works in Montreal, which can bid defiance to the assaults of the fire-brick and the gunpowder and tools of the craftiest burglar.

In order that our readers may know something of the manufacture of these articles, we here transcribe a few notes made at a late visit to Mr. Edwards' manufactory.

The works are situated near Point St. Charles, are of very large extent, and from forty to fifty men are employed. There with the splendid machinery in use, turn out upwards of five hundred safes a year, which are sent to all parts of the Dominion.

It is indeed a very large and important visitor enters: the whirr of machinery and the busy aspect of the workmen at once striking the beholder. Here is a machine, which gives one a good idea of power, at work, cutting bars of wrought iron, in quarters of an inch in diameter, with a quarter of an inch in diameter, with a pair of stout shears. In fact, anything pertaining to the manufacture of safes that can be done in any shop in the world, can here be executed. The safes are made of the best cast steel and iron, so wrought as to be impervious to the attacks of burglars and impossible of injury to their contents by fire.

One great feature of the safe manufactory, which is so constructed as to be impervious to the attacks of burglars and impossible of injury to their contents by fire, is that it is so constructed as to be impervious to the attacks of burglars and impossible of injury to their contents by fire.

American Despatches.

COUNCIL WITH INDIANS AT THE CAPITAL.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—At a Council with the Indian Chief, Secretary Chase made a speech assuring them of the good faith of the Government, and promising continued supplies of food and clothing. It would not prevent going to Red Cloud and Little Bear spoke of the bad treatment the Indians had received from soldiers and officers.

The Secretary promised to represent their grievances to the President.

ELECTION.

The special election in this city to-day on the question of taking one million dollars to bonds to aid the Southern Pacific R.R., was decided in the affirmative.

The Revenue Cutter had returned from an unsuccessful cruise in search of the runaway British ship "Wm. Wilson."

GREAT MASONIC GATHERING.

New York, May 8.—The ceremony of laying the corner stone of the new Masonic Temple, designed to be the most unique and elaborate structure of its kind in America, and perhaps in the world, will take place in the city to-day, and will be participated in by probably not less than thirty thousand Masons.

LOCAL TELEGRAPH LINES.

Mayor Hall has announced his intention to approve of no further privileges for coal and telegraph post lines through the city, and is preparing a special message urging that all existing lines be taken down and run in cables under ground.

Marine News.

On Saturday last, the steamer "T. F. Parker" was burned at Detroit in the water's edge and sank. She is a total loss. Insured for $100,000, but half the value.

Lake Fisheries.—Chicago, June 2.—Shippers have refused to pay the advance demanded by carriers, and yesterday's rates declined fully in proportion to the advance. It is expected that the rates will be reduced to 10 to 15 cents for Buffalo, 10 to 15 for corn, and 10 to 15 for wheat to Oswego and Kingston.

PORT OF BELLEVILLE.

Steamer Rochester, Kingston, general cargo, Capt. Thistle, Oswego, 3 barges, 4th.

BEAUTIFUL INCIDENT.—In one of our schools there is a young girl who is a cripple. It is a custom of the teacher to allow her, when the scholars are dismissed, always to pass out first, in order that she may escape the confusion attendant upon the dismissal of so many children.

On Monday last, when the alarm of fire was sounded, the school room was at once emptied of its contents. While in all the rest they rushed out in dismay and light, in some cases leaving everything behind, in the one where the lame child was there was perfect quietness and order.

All the scholars, notwithstanding the noise and apparent danger, remained quietly in their seats till their lame companion had gotten safely out and was secure from the rush, when they with a bound cleared the room. They thought of her safety before their own; neither fight in dismay and induced them to provide for themselves, but they saw her secure from peril. Such a display of consideration and kindness we have not heard of for many a day, and when we remember that it came from children, it becomes the more touching and beautiful.—Exponent, via Free Press.

A MORAL WELL POINTED.—Sophronia, a wise teacher, would not suffer his grown up sons and daughters to associate with anyone whose conduct was not pure and upright. "Dear father," said the little Estelle to him one day, when he forbade her, in company with her brother, to visit the volatile Lucinda, who thinks she is very childish if you judge that we would be exposed to danger by it." The father took in silence a dead coal from the hearth and reached it to his daughter.

It will burn you, my child, take it. She did so, and laid it on the fire. "What a foolish girl," said the father, "and her dress soiled to see. We cannot be too careful in handling coals; even if they do not burn, they blacken. So it is with the company of the vicious."

Daily Intelligence.

BELLEVILLE, MONDAY, JUNE 18.

KINGSTON AND MADRID RAILWAY.—A meeting of the directors of the Kingston and Madrid Railway is to be held in Toronto some time next week.

CLOSING OF MAIL.—The following are the hours of closing of mail at Belleville Post Office, under the new arrangement, which came into effect this day: For the East, 10:15 a.m.; for the West, 4:30 a.m., p.m.

NOBLE BROTHERS.—Hon. D. E. Price and his brother, who live in the Saguenay district, have distributed out of their private purse, $7,000 among the sufferers by the late fire in that part of the country. This noble generosity will endear them to the people of that section of Canada.

DOMINION DAY.—The Prince Edward Horticultural Society have issued a large and varied programme of amusements, which a considerable sum is offered as prizes. The demonstration will take place upon the grounds of the society, on Dominion Day, and will be both attractive and entertaining.

CHANGES.—The Ottawa mail, telegraph the following items: "The Hon. A. Campbell to be appointed Judge, Chief Justice Richards to retire; Hon. Mr. Howe to be made President of the Council, and transferred to the Senate; Hon. Dr. Tupper to take Mr. Howe's present office. It may be remembered this report is very reliable."

NEW ELECTIONS.—Write have been or will shortly be issued for new elections in the counties of Mississauga and York, in the Province of Quebec; and Colchester, in the Province of Nova Scotia; to fill vacancies created by the appointment of B. Chamberlain to the County of Prince George; and Hon. A. G. Archibald, Governor of Manitoba; P. G. Hunt, M. P. for Quebec East, and the present Postmaster represented, and will not nominate an election for Quebec East.

FRANCE ARTHUR.—A Montreal telegram of Saturday says: "His R. H. Prince Arthur was this day visited with the order of St. Michael and St. George, by His Excellency Sir John Young. A large and distinguished company of ladies and gentlemen were present at the ceremony. Afterwards the Prince, accompanied by the entire party, drove to the Crystal Palace, where His Royal Highness unveiled the statue of Her Majesty the Queen. The statue is well executed, and reflects credit on the sculptor, Marshall Wood."

HARD TIMES IN THE U. STATES.—From all parts of the United States comes the cry of hard times. The Boston Herald of the 10th inst., says hundreds of men in that city are out of employment; for though business is tolerably good, there is not work sufficient for the number of workmen requiring employment. In New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, St. Louis, &c., the same state of things exists, and there is a large amount of destitution and crime in consequence. The want of work of course engenders crime, for apart from the want it involves, idle people are prone to get into bad habits, and especially liable to commit crimes when goaded on by necessity to do so.

BRIEF MENTION.—Several heavy rain showers fell during last night. The band played on the hospital lot on Saturday night, having moved from the Court House, owing to the illness of John W. Eggar. Several papers mention that preparations are being made by the firm of that city for the reception of the Belleville and other friends on the 18th of July. DeWitt How Co., of Oswego acknowledges the receipt of a photograph of Mrs. Engin Co. "The St. George's Picnic to-day was successful, owing to the threatening weather. The town will make quite a revenue out of the harbor this year. There was no service yesterday in the Presbyterian Churches, the Pastors being absent. The prospects of the St. George's Society's excursion to Niagara Falls on the 21st are very favorable. The Bethel service yesterday afternoon on the "Prince Edward" was largely attended. Rev. Jos. Wild was the preacher. County Council and Quarter Sessions to-morrow.

GRAND ORANGE LODGE OF BRITISH AMERICA.—Delegates to the annual session of the M. W. G. Lodge are informed that the Orangemen of Kingston propose to dedicate their new hall, the largest in Canada, on the morning of Wednesday, the 22nd June, at 10 o'clock, a.m. The proceedings will commence by a procession from the City Hall, along the principal streets to the Orange Hall. The brethren will be marshalled by their degrees and position in the Order, and thereafter all delegates are enjoined to bring with them their full regalia. Grand officers are requested to wear their proper insignia and badge of office, which will secure them their correct position in the procession. It is hoped that in consequence of this additional attraction there will be a very numerous and influential representation at this splendid session of the Grand Lodge. Arrangements have been made at the British American Hotel for boarders at $1.50 per day, and at the City Hotel for $1.

AN EDITOR IN TROUBLE.—T. W. Anglin, editor of the Freeman of St. John's, N. B. and M. P. for Gloucester, New Brunswick, committed severely through his paper, upon the appointment of a Mr. Watmore to the Provincial Bench, and among other things denounced him as a "miserable place hunter," for which Mr. Anglin a violent blow in the face, and followed it up with several others in such rapid succession as to bewilder the editor and render him powerless. Those who know Mr. Anglin by sight may be surprised to hear that a tall, large, and powerful man was unable to defend himself against the assault of a boy. But Mr. Anglin is very vindictive, and his passions were broken almost immediately, so that he was at a great disadvantage. Watmore was eventually sent and taken away, exclaiming that he would treat Mr. Anglin in the same fashion every time he used similar language with regard to his father.

VOLUNTEER CAMPS.—From circulars issued from the Militia Department, giving instructions in reference to the drill for the Volunteers, it appears that instead of six and a half days' drill in June, eight days must be spent by the Volunteers in camp, exclusive of Sundays and days of arrival and departure, and six hours' drill a day must be performed during that time. Non-commissioned officers and men will receive $3 each, and commissaries of the Militia will receive $5. For transport, officers will be allowed five pence, and men six pence, to include the return home as well as the trip to the camp. Mount of officers and mounted troops will be allowed $2 for horses. The Volunteers who do not take part in any camp, such as rural companies not in battalions and city corps, are to perform 15 days drill, and drill quarters, as usual, at their own convenience.

Canada Presbyterian General Assembly.

SATURDAY, JUNE 11.

Rev. Mr. Fraser moved that the rolls of the District Synods be printed in the minutes of the Assembly—Carried. The Committee appointed by the General Assembly to consider the petition of the Rev. Mr. Windell against the decision of the Presbytery of Ontario in establishing a preaching station at Williamsburg, which he considered within the bounds of his pastoral charge, reported that the decision of the Presbytery be confirmed, and that the petition be dismissed.

Rev. Mr. Windell dissented from the finding of the Committee.

On motion, the recommendation of the report was adopted.

Rev. Mr. Windell said that he desired, in view of the decision of the Assembly to have his name removed from the roll of the Assembly, and proper credentials given him as a minister. Also that the Assembly grant him his right of interest in the Widow's and Orphan's Fund to which he contributed since he became a minister.

Rev. Mr. Kemp said that the Rev. Mr. Windell must bring these matters before his Presbytery.

It was agreed to hear the Rev. Anson Green and Rev. E. B. Harper, delegated by the Wesleyan Conference, on Monday.

Church of England Synod.

The Synod of the Church of England for the Diocese of Ontario, which held its sittings in Ottawa, brought its proceedings to a close on Thursday last.

On the second day's Session the following important resolutions were proposed by Mr. James Shannon, of Kingston:

Whereas it is desirable to secure to the Laity a voice in appointment of their own Ministers, and to repeal Canon six, be it enacted as follows:

1. Upon a vacancy occurring in any Parish, it shall be the duty of the Churchwardens to report the same to the Bishop, who, thereupon, shall nominate one or more Clergymen for the appointment.

2. A vestry meeting shall be called with [ten] days for the purpose of considering the Bishop's nomination, and upon a vote being taken, any of the Clergymen so nominated receiving the support of a majority of such vestry, shall be declared duly appointed.

3. In case none of the Clergymen so nominated shall be approved by the Vestry, the result shall be communicated to the Bishop, who may nominate one or more Clergymen to fill the vacancy, and such nominations shall be submitted to the Vestry within the time, and voted upon in the manner provided by the second section.

4. Provided, however, that in case the vacancy shall be filled up by the Bishop within the space of (three) calendar months, the appointment shall lapse to the Vestry absolutely.

Canon six is hereby repealed.

Rev. Mr. Bavin seconded the motion. Mr. Shannon spoke at some length on the importance to canon six, and gave it as his opinion that the Bishop should appoint a committee which would draw up a canon that would give the laity a voice in the election of their own ministers.

Rev. Mr. Bain spoke in support of the resolution, and Mr. Cartwright opposed it, on the ground that the laity already had a large voice in the appointment of the clergy.

Rev. W. R. Bedford, seconded by Mr. Shaw, offered an amendment in opposition to the resolution.

Mr. H. S. McDonald moved an amendment to the amendment, deferring action on the resolution, till the views of the Synods of Toronto and Huron be ascertained.

After some remarks by Hon. James Patton and J. B. Lewis, Esq.,

The meeting was adjourned by His Lordship the Bishop, who said he had expected this trial, and had wished to know what reason the movers of the question had for wishing to withdraw the power from their Bishop's hands, which they had aided in vesting in him. He did not know in what way he had transgressed his powers, or in what manner he had given dissatisfaction.

He would say on the general question of patronage that he did not know in what situation would be happier without it. His was the greatest trouble of his officers to suit parishes with clergymen. There were four parishes even then without clergymen, and he was at a loss how to find men to fill the situations with satisfaction. Indeed, he would be thankful to any one of those satisfied parishes if they could name a clergyman that would suit them, and take the responsibility of his shoulders. He would not accept the responsibility of patronage at all unless it was free and untrammelled. He had a decided objection to the last resolution that had been submitted, proposing to adjust this motion for another session, and have it remain a vexed question for another term.

A vote was then taken on Mr. H. S. McDonald's amendment with the following result:—

Yeas—Clergy, 4; laity, 6.

Nays—Clergy, 42; laity, 30.

Mr. Shannon then withdrew his original motion.

An improvement was noticed as having taken place in collections, which amounted to over $700 more than last year.

The following delegates were elected:

Clerical—Rev. Messrs. Anderson, Preston, Dr. Patton, Dr. Howell, Lauder, Burke, Tans, Bogart, Forrest, Pearson, Dr. Bassell, J. A. Mulock, Stannard, Schettler, Reid, Jarvis, S. Jones, the Dean, F. Kirkpatrick, R. Lewis and R. Garrett. Lay Delegates:

Messrs. McAnany, J. B. Lewis, Judge Jarvis, Hon. J. Patton, Dr. Henderson, A. Cole, M. P. P. H. D. S. Shaw, E. J. Snider, Mr. May, William B. Simpson, J. Gray, and H. S. Macdonald. Substitutes:

Messrs. A. Hooker, J. Shannon, S. Turner, and M. C. Evans, D. F. Jones, and J. T. Rogers.

The scrutineers appointed to examine the reports reported the following elected to the Mission Board:

Lay—F. McAnany, Hon. Jas. Patton, S. Keefe, E. Harrison, James Shannon, W. B. Simpson, W. C. Evans and E. P. Senkler.

Clerical—The Rev. Messrs. Preston, Anderson, Burke, Tans, Nesbitt, White, Bogart and Lauder.

Mr. Lewis moved a report, referring to the insuperable difficulties in the way of a division of the diocese, and offering cooperation with his Lordship in giving the idea of the appointment of a Coadjutor Bishop general office, and Mr. Lewis was appointed to report at the next Synod.

Mr. Lauder, Ottawa, supported the scheme.

His Lordship approved of the scheme. He was perfectly willing to undertake the work, but thought that what he should be a resident Bishop at Ottawa. He was not bound to reside in any particular part of the episcopate.

A motion to remove the See to Ottawa was lost.

Queen vs. Smith.

Hercules Smith was summarily tried this morning before the Judge of the County Court of the County of Hastings, for stealing from Charles Baker, both parties lay in Tynesburg. The evidence was clear, and seems Baker, on going home, saw a pig on the road side rooting at his fence, and on closer observation saw wheat. He examined and found two bags of wheat, which he hid under the rail. That night wheat was sent, and the thief drove a horse and buggy, tied him up and approached by way of the stable, where the horse was found, and he was taken to the jail. The trial was a very short one, and the verdict was a fine of $100, and costs, and a term of imprisonment of three months.

His Lordship approved of the scheme. He was perfectly willing to undertake the work, but thought that what he should be a resident Bishop at Ottawa. He was not bound to reside in any particular part of the episcopate.

A motion to remove the See to Ottawa was lost.

Queen vs. Smith.

Hercules Smith was summarily tried this morning before the Judge of the County Court of the County of Hastings, for stealing from Charles Baker, both parties lay in Tynesburg. The evidence was clear, and seems Baker, on going home, saw a pig on the road side rooting at his fence, and on closer observation saw wheat. Classical Quotations for Field Marshal O'Neill.

CAMPBELL, CORRUPTED.

O'Neill O'Neill! hero of the day.

When 700,000, all in battle array,

Such paper boys as you, a false brigade

Five hundred powder balls at a time

For a couple of shells ran in his sight.

Slashed O'Neill an arrow in the thigh.

"A back to my Regiments for a back!"

Another goose mutilated.

There was a great General, went up in Pigeon

Hill.

And if he had a tank and come away,

The probabilities are that he would have been hanging about there still.

"[This] talk was like the next, but good may extra fee, which will enable them, like the horses when they celebrate, to travel well."

WHY? HIS NAME WORKED OVER.

At the battle of Pigeon Hill,

I was there all the while,

at the battle of Pigeon Hill,

I fought with O'Neill

At the battle on the hill,

at the battle on the hill,

I fought with O'Neill.

Jack O'Neill went up to the slaughter,

The bloody Canada to slay.

Barbaric was his name, a U.S. back much more than that.

BEHIND THE MODERN!

Pate, when Coleridge has led,

Pate, who says with Meagher blood,

The first of the first of the first to the Canadian.

Not a day, but who's the hour,

Let the front of battle lower,

I will speak with soul and fear.

Out of Canada.

Dr. Radcliffe had a great objection to paying bills. A creditor, after long and fruitless attempts to get his accounts settled, called Dr. R. to get out of his chair, at his own door in Bloomsbury Square, and demanded the liquidation of his debt.

"Why, you rascal, said the doctor, do you pretend to be paid for such a piece of work?—Why, you have spoiled my pa-ments and, then covered it over with to hide your bad work."

"Doctor," said the creditor, "mine is not the only bad work, the country is."

"You say, said Radcliffe, are you a will? You must be poor—and one, and you shall have your pay."

OVER-EXERCISE, either of body or mind, produces physical and disease. The usual remedy is to take some stimulant, the effect of which is to excite the system, and thus the whig of the system. The true way to fortify the system with a permanent tonic like the PERUVIAN SYRUP, (made of iron), which gives strength and vigor to the system of the body.

Children's Aliments.

Plenty of fresh air, simple diet, and proper opportunities for exercise, are the best guards of the health of a child. The medicine is administered it should be of the purest kind, and the child should be drilled in the habit of taking it.

If we knew the people of this Dominion, the man's own antecedents are of more importance to them, than whether he has a long line of noble ancestors; therefore we confine our quotation to his record, which shows that by appointment of every reader. Robertson Rose, Patrick, Esq., of Glenora, County Inverness, Major 25th Foot (King's Own-Berden's), a Lieut.-Col. in the army, and a Knight of the Legion of Honour of France on 19th May, 1829. He entered the army in 1848, and served with distinction at the Cape of Good Hope in the Kaffir War of 1850-51, was thanked six times in general orders, and twice specially; also served throughout the whole of the campaign in the Crimea during the Russian war in 1854-55-56, and was present at the Battle of Alma and Inkermann and siege of Sebastopol. He was twice thanked in the general orders and despatches of Field Marshal Lord Raglan, and promoted for his services in that war. He received the following medals and decorations for his military services, viz.—The Kaffir war medal, the Crimean medal and three clasps, the Turkish war medal, the Cross of the Knight and Legion of Honour, and the Order of the Medjidie (Turkish).

Western Methodists and the Red River Expedition.

Few have read the resolutions referring to the R. R. expedition proposed by the Rev. Dr. Ryerson to the Wesleyan Methodist Conference, which just closed its session in Toronto, and the speech of the Dr. in introducing them, and who are not impressed with the gravity of the question, and its importance to the future peace and welfare of this Dominion, particularly if no satisfactory explanation can be given.

That the spiritual welfare of the members and adherents of the Wesleyan Methodist Church, should be a subject of great interest to the President and Clergyman of that influential body, is but reasonable; and when an expedition, a large portion of which is composed of members or adherents of that church, is about leaving the country on a long and arduous journey, it is but right and just that they should be in whom they have confidence should accompany them. It is upon this principle that priests of the Roman Catholic, and Clergyman of the Episcopal Church, are appointed and paid out of the Dominion purse to accompany the Red River expedition. Inaugured, we doubt not, with the importance of the occasion, and as anxiety for the spiritual welfare of the men who compose that force, the Rev. M. Pashan, another official of the Church wrote a letter to Sir George E. Cartier, Minister of Militia and Defence, offering to send a clergyman at their own expense with the expedition. Having done this, they had at least a right to expect a courteous reply and not such an one as that received. Had a similar request been sent to the Department by the Bishop of Ontario on behalf of the Church of England, or the representative of the Roman Catholic, would Sir George or any of his underpayers have replied by addressing them as Mr. Lewis, and Mr. Horan? Had they done so, the insult would have been resented in a proper spirit. The officials of the Militia Department, or any other Department of State, have no more right to treat contemptuously the officials of the Methodist body, than those of the Churches of England, or the Roman Catholic, would Sir George or any of his underpayers have replied by addressing them as Mr. Lewis, and Mr. Horan? Had they done so, the insult would have been resented in a proper spirit.

P. V. Dorland, reduced from $3,000 to $2,800.
S. H. Ball, assessed for $2,000, reduced to $2,300.
Richard Elvins, personal property, struck off.
John Taylor, assessed for $5,000 to be reduced $2,000.
Wm. Robertson, assessed as owner of three lots. To be assessed as lessee, J. Cronk as owner.
John Lewis, as tenant of the old Skating Rink, to be struck off. Robt. Gordon to remain as owner.
A lot in Coleman Ward, assessed to W. Burdett; charged to S. B. Burdett.
Assessment upon vessels to be struck off, in consequence of their now having to pay harbor dues.
The other appeals remain as assessed.
Back taxes will come up for future consideration.

OUR TROOPS TO FIGHT THEIR WAY—RELL AND THE HANOVERIA BILL—THE TRANTH SCOTTISH—PREFERRABLE TO HANGING—ARRIVAL OF THE UNITED STATES TROOPS.

From the Toronto Telegraph.

PENINSULA, May 23.—Rell and his Confreres, the "Daily Telegraph" is very frank and outspoken in its unequalled condemnation of the Winnipeg party.

The Rell party in the Settlement were rather taken aback by the accounts which they read in the "Telegraph" of the indignation meeting held after the murder of Scott. Some of them readily proclaimed that they would fight it out; while others were under the impression that Rell and his gang had led them about as far as they intended to go. Rell doubts the good faith of the Canadian Government, and is surprised that after the Manitoba Bill passed Parliament, troops should be sent forward to Red River. Many of his partisans think that it is a trap to lull the Winnipeggers into inactivity in order to make the Canadian troops steal a march on them, and I have heard it asserted that the Red River expedition will be met before they reach dry land.

Col. Goy, the Frenchman whom our correspondent met at Buffalo Grove, has been drilling a cavalry force at Fort Garry. I have reason to believe that the Fenian movement has more in it than they in Canada are inclined to believe. They will, no doubt, give some little trouble.

McIntyre, of Winnipeg, has moved his stamper saw mill to the place.

Two companies of United States troops have arrived to erect a military post on the Pembina River.

Emigration, (from North as well as South) is arriving, and times are lively.

Hon. Mr. Nelson, the Deputy Collector of Customs, has gone to Winnipeg on a visit. About a month since Miss Reade was joined in wedlock to Mr. A. McKay, of the Red River Settlement.

Congress has established a Government Land Office at that place. Col. E. Stutsman is to be appointed Registrar.

NOTICE OF BY-LAW

Mr. Rose gave notice that he would introduce a By-Law to repeal or amend By-law 57, which erects Frankford into a police village, to change the boundaries. The Council went into Committee on orders—Mr. Farley in the chair.

For the work to be performed at Frank-received: Wm. Gilbert, $1,200; P. P.

A misunderstanding had arisen in the drawing up of the specification, which was for two spans of 50 and 60 feet, whereas the Committee had given instructions for two spans of 60 and 90 feet. After some discussion, Mr. Wm. Gilbert was heard at the bar. He stated, that if there had been any mistake, it was a good mistake. For the deep water was on the west side of the river and it was there a boat was needed.

On motion of the Warden, seconded by Mr. White, the tender of Mr. Gilbert was accepted.

The Council then adjourned until 10 o'clock to-morrow.

Mr. Armstrong said the present valuation was correct, except in one or two instances. $30,000 were taken off Huntingdon and put on Madoc; it would be fair. The Ward said the absurdity of the proposition was so evident, that he could regard it as a joke. Mr. Eno complained of the injustice to Huntingdon. Madoc, he thought, was not realized in proportion to the others.

The Warden said there was quite a much arable land in Huntingdon as in lower than in Madoc. The gold export ment had raised the value of property

Madoc, and since that, much of the pro sity then rated very high was now almost less. Besides, Huntingdon was a r market, and grain could be brought Belleville much cheaper than from Co. When the valuers made their ation, they commenced in Sidney in the newly discovered gold fields, and their most they reached Madoc at the time when gns were at their best, and so the tion was not exactly satisfactory, and reliable in making the equalization. Of the townships, Sidney and Huntingdon were the only two which were satisfied with the valuations. He did not charge

Hot Summers.

A FEW STATISTICAL EVIDENCES.

From the published records kept at Nuremberg, in Bavaria, we translate the following interesting facts relating to extremely hot seasons, in times past:

In the year 1152 the earth, cracked by reason of the heat, the wells and streams in Alsace dried up, and the soil of the River Rhine was dry.

In the year 1152 the heat was so great that sand exposed to the sun's rays was hot enough to cook eggs.

In 1160 soldiers in the campaign against Bela died from the effects of the heat.

In 1276 and 1277 the crops of hay and oats failed completely.

In 1440 the heat was extraordinary.

In the years 1538, 1539, 1540 and 1541 all the rivers were nearly dried up.

In the years 1303 and 1304 a corn could have been raised, only over the Rivers Rhone, Loire, Rhine and Danube.

In 1853 and 1854 animals perished by reason of the heat, which was so great that the harvest dried up.

In 1556 there was a great drought, through which the whole of Europe.

In 1613 and 1614 there was, in Italy, France and Netherlands, an overpowering heat.

In 1718 it did not rain a single time from April until October. The growing grain was burnt, the rivers dried up. In irrigated gardens the fruit trees blossomed twice.

The summer of 1746 was very hot and dry, the growing grain being absolutely calcined. It did not rain for many months.

In the famous comet year—1811—the summer was very warm.

In the year 1818 the theatres had to be closed, on account of the heat, the highest temperature being 35 Reaumur, or 111 Fahrenheit.

During the three days of the revolution of July, 1830, the thermometer stood at 36 degrees Centigrade, about the same as 97 Fahrenheit.

In 1833, during the uprising of the 4th and 5th of July, the temperature was the same.

The same was nearly dried up in 1835.

In June, 1850, when the cholera appeared for the second time, the temperature was only about 65 Fahrenheit.

The highest degree of heat that man can withstand for any lengthened period varies from 104 to 122 of Fahrenheit scale. But with a much lower temperature numerous deaths occur.

Transplanting will be more successful if the hole into which the plant is to be set is first filled with water, to thoroughly wet the soil.

Be a LADY OWNER.—The man who owns a spot of land, large enough, when cultivated, to yield him the food he requires can be as truly independent as a millionaire. It is vastly comfortable to know that even if business grows bad, and accumulations (travelling away, we will have the interest of a plot of ground, in some remote locality it may be, to which we can retire, and by hard physical exertion gain from it bread for ourselves and little ones.

LAWNS.—To have fine close turf, it is essential that the ground should be rich, the soil thickly sown, and the grass mown frequently. Weeds, for the most part, flourish in a soil too poor for the grass to make a sufficiently strong growth to crowd them out. Frequent mowing not only keeps the turf thick, but it destroys the annual weed. It is best to mow often and leave the cut grass to act as a fertilizer. Bone-dust and ashes are excellent as a top dressing.

Why is it that Dr. Boyer's Galvanic Fluid is used in every family in the section where it is manufactured?

Lettuce Growing in N. Y. City.

Peter Henderson, in the American Agriculturist, for May, says: "The variety grown under glass and first planted out in spring, are usually the 'Butter' and 'Curled Sibola.' As soon as the crop is planted out, sowings are made for a succession; this time of 'Curled Sibola' and 'Butter' the Sibola being planted for the warm weather at this sowing would mature. The crop planted out in March matures by the end of May or the first of June, and as soon as it is cut off, the ground is ploughed or dug over, and the plants sown in March are planted. Another sowing is made for the entire season, the rule being to sow seed each time of planting. Your crops of lettuce are nearly a crop from June to October, or nearly a crop from June to October. The crops are not apart about 1 foot each way, and will average one cent per head, so that the four crops give a return of nearly $2,000 per acre.

Cultivating the Strawberry.

It has become fairly settled as the only sound method of cultivating the strawberry, that the plants must be kept free from runners. The effect of this practice is wonderful. The whole growth of the plant is concentrated by this means in the original stock, and it enlarges until as many as a quart of berries have been picked from a single plant. It will be understood that this method is followed only with such plants as are not raised with a view of propagation, but are permanent varieties, sent out for family use. In order to sell, the runners must be encouraged. After all the endless list of the varieties which have been extolled as the best, the Wilson retains its position as the best berry. We doff our hats and yield hearty acquiescence to this deserved meed of praise to the Wilson. And as every man, even to cultivators, are supposed to have reasons to assign for their likes and dislikes, this is ours for the Wilson. It is a plant, though hardly variety, stands well up out of the sand and dust with its fruit, although a little more acid in its properties than its rivals, of endless names, with crushed sugar at 13c per pound, we are for the Wilson's seedling first, last and always. We should prize it not in our strawberries. We want that in a separate plant, the same as the man who found his in his butter, who in his range 'spiculated'—'carry that out of the room.'

Green-House and Window Plants.

Window plants usually go out of doors altogether this month, but it is less the custom than formerly to turn everything out of the green house. It is but little trouble to properly care for the plants in the house than out of doors, and the liability to injury is much less. By proper shading of the glass and ventilation, plants can be kept in good condition. Plants out of doors should be sheltered from the winds and in part from the sun. Camellias need shade. Placing the pot up to the rim in soil is done to avoid the necessity of frequent watering and for ornamenting the border. The soil under the bottom of the hole in which the plant is set, to prevent worms from gaining access to the pot. Fuschias bloom much better in partial shade than in the sun. In this country they do poorly as window plants. Well-grown specimens make a fine show upon a veranda where they have some shade.

There is a tobaccoist in Washington who rejoices in the appropriate name of Bacchus, and in the same city there is a liquor seller named Bacchus. The Massachusetts Doctors died together last week. The end was reached by Dr. Wellington, of Cambridge, who said that "verminization was the last sin of the profession."

CANADA
LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY

ESTABLISHED 1847.

THE only Canadian Life Company authorized by Government for the Dominion. Its rates are lower than those of British or American Offices.

The fact that Canada has a larger amount of investments and of Assurance business in the Dominion than any of the British or American Companies, sufficiently attests the preference of the public for Canada for a well conducted Canadian Institution, and its rapid growth is a satisfactory evidence of the popularity of its principles and practice.

A. G. RAMSAY, Manager.

BANK ROBBERY.

Liverpool, June 17.—Henry L. Pope, cashier of the Commercial Bank, is this city, was alone in the bank this afternoon, when two men entered. One of them displayed a revolver to Pope, threatening him with instant death if he uttered a word, and the other seized a handbag saturated with chloroform, threw it over his head and drew a sheet over his face. The robbers, as soon as the shareholders had taken effect, carried Pope to the bank part of the building, locked him in there, and proceeded with their work. $60,000 in money was secured and carried off, and $15,000 or $17,000 left scattered about the floor.

A clerk returning about half-past eight, discovered the bank door open and called in two policemen, who, having grown from the rear of the building, discovered and released Pope, who was still unconscious, and it was some time before he recovered sufficiently to give a clue to the robbers.

gravel road, and no one regretted that expenditure, or would go back to the old, as the gravel roads enabled the farmers to get to market at a season of the year when without them they could not. The sale of cows and butter had been referred to as a great trade. The fact was, a Yankee came here, purchased a few cows, drove her home, and for the trouble of milking during the summer, he had the cow for nothing, for the product of that cow more than paid for her. The trade returns show that last year we exported about 3,000,000 lbs. of butter, which had the milk been made into cheese, would have paid more than the interest upon the public debt of Canada. The advantages of these roads could not be illustrated better than when he told them it cost their factory about half as much to reach the Grand Trunk Station at Belleville, with their cheese, though they had the advantages of Great Roads, as it did to send it to Montreal; and the loss to the farmer, in not being able to reach the market in proper time and season of the year, was in growing barley alone, equal to a tax upon every acre of about $4. A number of others had been granted during the past session of Parliament for the building of roads upon the principle of one-third bonus, one-third in stock, and one-third upon the bonds of the road. By the same means they could build this road, and he would do all he could to assist in the construction by urging upon others its great benefits to them as a farming community, in every section of the country.

JOSEPH WAT, Esq., said Seymour possessed advantages for growing in every respect surpassed by any other Township in the Dominion, both in the fertility of its soil and its stupendous water power. It had a portion of navigable water, and running through the south-east corner there was a fall of 340 feet in the river, thus giving sufficient power to manufacture for the Dominion, which, if utilized, would make Seymour the most wealthy Township in Canada; and if this road were extended to Georgian Bay it would make Seymour to our great west what the Eastern are to the Western States, and bring thousands of young men into our country instead of having hundreds leave as at present. (Hear, hear.)

Jas. Brown, Esq., M. P. thought the construction of the road was only a question of time. The questions as to stations had been mooted; there could be no doubt they would be established wherever freight could be procured. There was one thing they must understand, this road was not a necessity to the prosperity of Belleville, though he believed it would add to the wealth of that town, still the benefits would be mutual. When the map was laid before Robt. Stevenson, the great engineer, he pronounced this line, from Georgian Bay to the east the correct one, being so much shorter than any other. The scheme had been married to the Grand Trunk for the past 17 years, and now that a divorce had been obtained, it was to be hoped the people would go on and build the road.

In answer to a question, Mr. Kelso said the calculation was that the road would cost about $15,000 a mile.

The motion was then carried amid loud applause.

Thanks were given to the delegates and the chairman, and the meeting broke up with three cheers for the success of the road, and three for the Queen.

In the evening a sumptuous dinner was provided for all the delegates at McLaughlin's Hotel, the Hon. Jas. D. Wood, Esq., in the chair, and Mr. Bedford, Deputy Reeve, in the Vice Chair. After the usual loyal toasts were given, and speeches made by a number of the gentlemen present, and the company separated with the hope that the whistle of the iron horse would soon be heard in the village.

—Sir John A. Macdonald is still improving. Another detachment of workmen leaves Ottawa to-day for Red River.

—Recent heavy rains in Great Britain have been very favorable to the crops.

—The Ottawa Evening Mail was seized by the creditors on Saturday evening, and will be sold this week.

—The ship "Express" which had been given as lost, having been several months out, arrived at Liverpool on Saturday.

—A cable dispatch says: Arthur Clinton, one of the Boulton managers, died suddenly on Saturday. He disclaimed the crime implicated.

FOUR AT LAST.—A remedy that not only relieves, but cures that enemy of mankind, Consumption as well as the numerous satellites which revolve around it in the shape of Coughs, Cold, Bronchitis, Sore Throat, Influenza, &c. The remedy we allude to is Dr. Wm. B. Ewald's Wild Cherry, prepared by Seth W. Fowler & Son, Boston.

ALABAMA.—It is high time that measures were taken to put an end at once and forever to the depredations of the internal organization of cut-throats and pirates which have for several years past been allowed to pursue their industry and ruinously injure our agricultural and commercial pursuits. If it were necessary to adduce a fact in illustration of our argument we might point to the delay in the arrival of "Alabama," for which the western hemisphere has been on tiptoe since the opening of navigation and which has been, we understand, greatly retarded by the rumors of these Fenian outbreaks which reached even the East from time to time. We trust, however, that the measures there at hand, if not killed outright, at least scotched, and confidence in a measure restored, the reasonable anxiety of the public will be speedily gratified by the safe arrival of the long expected vessel.

Grand Junction Railway.

At the meeting held in Peterborough on Wednesday, the 18th inst., during a discussion upon the relative claims of the Port Hope and Grand Trunk Railway, Mr. Clifton, a deputy of the Port Hope road, stated positively that the freight charges from eastern ports to Port Hope via the Grand Trunk Railway, were no higher than they were to Belleville. Not having the facts nor figures before them, the statement was allowed to pass with a mere disclaimer. We now give the rates to all the principal ports, and leave it with the people of Peterborough to judge the veracity of the Port Hope Road Director. These figures can be verified at any of the Grand Trunk Stations.

Up to the 11th eleven cases of Fenian arms had arrived by rail from St. Paul, and were being forwarded by the old Crow Wing route to Red River. A considerable quantity of provisions were also arriving, and a number of Irish with no apparent occupation, were loitering about the streets of the town. Opinions as to the route which these parties will take, for it is fully believed that they will attempt to intercept the expedition, and they may be met by the Crow Wing road at Crow Wing City, transporting the arms by wagon to Gull and Leech Lakes over the Government Indian road, and thence by canoe to Red Lake, and from Red Lake by water and portage to the southern shore of the Lake of the Woods, or down the Red Lake River, which is unobstructed by rapids into the Red River at that point only 90 miles south of Pembina.

County Court.

During the late sitting of the County Court, the Grand Jury handed in the following:

PRESENTMENT.

The Grand Jurors of our Lady, the Queen, for the General Sessions of the County of Hastings, beg leave to report:

They have carefully examined into, and examined the several indictments laid before them, and in the case of two of them in particular, beg leave to express the opinion that they should have been settled by the Police Magistrate of the town, and not brought before the Court at all. One was so trivial they considered it their duty to throw it out at once.

They also beg most respectfully to call the attention of the Court to the large expenses incurred by the County by the non attendance of parties to suits on the first day of Court.

We have examined the gaol, etc., and find everything neat and clean, but are very much surprised that the frequent complaints made by the Grand Jurors of former Courts have not been attended to. We refer particularly to the unsightly state of the Court House grounds, the steps, and the approaches leading up to the front of the Court House, being in many places dangerous. We would suggest a fence being built around the grounds, to keep off cattle and dogs, and proper drains made to carry off the surface water. A quantity of large stones are lying at the west corner of the Court House, and it surprises us that the County Council have not had them removed from the walls of the gaol, and furnished the Sheriff with hammers, so as to enable him to keep prisoners sentenced to hard labor to work at breaking them, and thus compel them to at least defray part of their expenses, and make it more of a punishment than it seems to be to them at present. We would also strongly urge the necessity of a suitable water closet for the use of the prisoners, so as to be available to jurymen and witnesses, as the one now intended for that purpose is virtually closed.

We have also been placed to some inconvenience for the want of a sufficient number of chairs.

We also wish to express our thanks to His Honor and the County Attorney, for their advice and assistance.

All of which we respectfully submitted, For and follow.

Pepper Pods.

BY JOHN DILLON.

If you have got a spirited and noble boy, appeal to his generosity; if you have got a heavy and sulky one, appeal to his back.

A great many of our people go about too improve their minds who hadn't got any minds when they were at home; knowledge, like charity, should begin at home, then spread.

Amateurs are the compliments that Heaven pays to the virtuous.

Nobody but a phoebe will spend his time in trying to convince a phoebe.

Time is like money, the less we have, the more we want it.

The tongue is really a very fast member of the body politic; he does all the talking and two-thirds of the thinking.

There is many a person who can set a mouse trap for a peacock, but not satisfied with such small game, undertake to set traps for bears, and get killed by the bears. Moral: Steady your gun, and stick to mice.

Let him go, my son, and an ancient father to his boy had caught a young rabbit, and when he gets bigger let him sign.

The boy did as he was told, and has been looking for that rabbit ever since.

The world owes all its energies and resources to the lazzarone, digging roads for breakfast and going begging for supper.

It is the virtuous innocence of a lazy sarge.

There is lots of folks who eat well, and drink well, and sleep well, and yet are sick all the time—there are the folks who always enjoy poor health.

A person with a little smattering of learning is a good deal like a hen's egg that has been set on a short time, and then turned by the hen—it is split for hatching out anything.

People of good sense are those whose opinions agree with ours.

There is a great deal of magnificent poverty in our big cities, and who eat plain soup out of a tin basin with a gold spoon.

The place where poverty, virtue, and wealth meet is the most interesting place in the universe.

Experience don't make a man so bold as it did before.

Pride never forgets itself, never has played up or frolic, it is always in the full night, from top to bottom, like a sick star.

There isn't but very little knowing good sense in the world now and, what little there is isn't in market—it is held for a dividend.

Those who have made up their minds to lead a life of enjoyment will find the following recipe a case help for them:

To one ounce of pleasure add a pound of repentance.

Adversity is a pestilence which reduces our vanity and strengthens our virtue—even a boy never feels so good as when he has been spanked and is not used to it.

Pecuniary is the science of invention, what little you know in one kind of pecuniary, and investing upon stocks that under every man's knee when you meet.

Living is like standing in a lake in a fog, if you move about in danger you bump your head on the truth, and as soon as the fog blows off you bump your head on the truth.

Marrying an angel is the poetry of marriage, but living with her is the prose, and that is all well said, that the poetry of marriage is the prose of marriage.

The man who lives on hope must put the house of disappointment on his back.

The devil is said to be the father of lies. If this is so, he has got a large family, and a great many promising children among them.

Life is like a mug of beer, hot at the top, cold in the middle, and settling at the bottom.

Men, if they ain't too lazy, live sometimes till they are 80 and die at 80, but a few live as follows: the first 30 years they spend thinking at a mark; the second 30 they spend examining the new theories where the atoms hit, and the remainder is divided in causing the sun throwing bricks at them.

This setting down and folding our arms, and waiting for something to turn up, is just about as much as a specimen of a person can do in this world.

Just about 400 feet, setting down a sharp stave with a pair between your knees, and waiting for a cow to fall up and be milked.

"All Paris" commences to leave the capital, which is becoming as hot as Nebuchadnezzar's oven. Jockey-Clubs bludge from race course to race course, to banish their regret; the man on town soaks Versailles of St. Germain; the jolly young watermen fly to Versailles; the ladies to Enn; the pickpocket to rural fets and the railway termini. The Empire will pass the dog days at the Tall eries, and the Deputies must "grunt and sweat under a weary life" till the list of Auggust in the Palais Bourbon. Indeed, for all the chances that may exist for some of the promised liberal projects being carried into law, the Chamber might be prorogued tomorrow, and liberate members and the floor at the same time. There is no prospect of the Ministry making up their lee-way—seems to want resolution. It will talk, discuss, appoint a Committee or a Committee

A Mayor in France, and there are some 30 000 such, is a functionary of the municipal order. He represents Napoleon the Third in his commune—kingdom—where he is a monarch of all he surveys. Very often he cannot read or write—he trusts to nature for these accomplishments, or the parish schoolmaster. But he can be a good governor.

ment agent despite these drawbacks, and can expound the pieties to John Hodge, consisting of putting an "Aye" ticket in the urns. One of the radical reforms, demanded alike by Moderates and Irreconcilables, was to allow each commune to elect its Mayor. The Committee, including the Solons of Paris, has been sifting this question since January last, but, whatever may have been its recommendations, the Government has decided to appoint the Mayor from three names selected by the local Council. Irreconcilables have by the local council. It is not much, but is better than the old place, by which the authorities could arbitrarily send a Mayor a district; as it does now Prefets and other Sub-Prefets, whose complete ignorance of the wants of the neighborhood was his chief excellence.

"What woman wishes, God wishes," says a French proverb. The ladies do not wish either their husbands or relatives to accept the new Senatorship "at half price." Ollivier's project of economy is popular.

where. France, we have been often told, is rich enough to pay for her glory; why, then, this coup de Jarnac to the Fathers! It does look as if the Prime Minister aimed at snuffing out this assembly of ornaments. If religious toleration no nation surpasses it, France, if Brigham Young ever comes to grief, instead of going to Alaska he ought to fall back on the wilds of Brittany or the landes of Gascony. The head of the Protestant Consistory will be raised to the Senate.

so will the Chief Rabbi—a concession so natural. If the Arabs of Algeria would on sit under their own vine and fig-tree, and registered as voters, they would also be able to claim a seat for the Vicar of Allah.

The hours in store for the Israelites, at the happiness and respect they are treated with in France, must change their resolution of ultimately returning to Jerusalem. However, in Roumania, the fanatics do not seem inclined to give the Jews an abiding city. (Mention is not made of the wild, mad, madmen.)

They are hunted down like wild beasts— sport being followed up day and night. France, it is true, took this corner of earth under her protection after the Crimean war, and which a Prussian Prince, still intact in his pocket. Now this unworthy daughter of France has excited the indignation of the mother, and the French Foreign Minister, is determined to repress the cruelties of the middle ages. Under King John a sort of "painless tooth extraction" was resorted to, to make Shilocks produce the money-bags—but we have changed all this and the Bartholomew massacre was the religious persecution idealized in by France. If Greece is unable to root out her brigands or Roumania to protect

They must give way to a stronger and better government.

One of the articles in the credo of the new Bulgarian Cabinet is political toleration.

In France this is making way. The farming press is becoming at last rational, and volcanoes if not active show no signs of eruption. The Irreconcilables are as short of ammunition, that they have had to select the subject of small-pox and vaccination, to make a debate, and displayed, as usual, no harmony in their relations. The "small pox club," held its second meeting, more medical men, and attached to the hospitals, attend. The ladies mustered strong also. The Jennerists

In the interim the disease is creating fearful ravages. The demi-monde is in despair. It is no secret that several tradesmen of Paris speculate on the Phrynes and Aspasias, by giving them credit, and getting them up regardless of expense. As a measure of pru-

This image shows a blank, aged, cream-colored page, likely an endpaper or flyleaf of a book. The paper has a slightly textured appearance with some minor discoloration and a horizontal crease near the top edge. A dark, irregular stain is visible along the bottom edge, possibly from the binding or the next page. The overall tone is warm and vintage.

EUROPE.

LONDON, June 21.—In the House of Commons, last night, the Postmaster-General promised an early increase of facilities for telegraphic communication with Ireland. Additional cables would be laid, and improved connections established.

Mr. Forster, in reply to a question of Mr. Pease, said that such accommodation would be provided as soon as the Education Bill passed.

Mr. Denison, Speaker of the House, after complimentary remarks from Messrs. Darnley and Gladstone, had leave to attend the commemoration to-day at Oxford University, to receive an Honorary Degree.

The House then went into Committee on the Compulsory Education Bill.

Mr. Richards moved, Sir C. W. Dilke seconded, an amendment to strike out the clause making grants for denominational schools. Richards and Dilke maintained that while the attendance should be made compulsory, the funds for their support should come from local and voluntary sources, not from the public treasury.

Mr. Gathorne Hardy declined the idea of State schools placed side by side with others sustained by local rates. He made a strong argument for the maintenance of the authority of the Church.

Mr. Bouverie Hope, Sir J. Pakington, and others, supported the amendment.

Mr. Forster objected to the amendment as impairing without making any compensation the value and vitality of the measure. As the Bill stood now, the cause of education was likely to be benefited, for one sect might snatch the advantage from another.

At an early period of the proceedings of the House of Commons, to-day, Mr. Torrens gave notice that he should propose the insertion in the Education Bill of a new clause granting against the non-payment of rates, where a criminal charge may be made, a political purpose in the demand of a foreign power.

In the evening session, Mr. Beaumont moved for leave to bring in a Bill relieving Bishops from attendance in Parliament. He thought the presence of the Bishops there was useless and superfluous.

Mr. Locke King seconded the motion.

Mr. Gladstone said the Government could not assent to the introduction of such a measure. He considered it an ill-advised and gratuitous attack on the Constitution.

The House divided, and leave to introduce the Bill was refused by 168 to 102.

A lively session was caused to the Lower House of Parliament this evening by an alarm of fire, which happily proved to be false.

and am willing to repay you for them if you will give me work. I was in liquor when I did it, and when in liquor I have no distinct consciousness of the evil of any action."

"Give you work, indeed! Oh, no, John, I cannot give you another chance to rob me."

"But I will not get drunk any more, and you know me, John, that while I was a sober man, and worked for you, I never wronged you out of a sixpence worth."

"Won't you get drunk any more! Ah! John, I have lived too long in the world and have seen too much too good such promises."

"But I am in earnest Mr. Lankford; I have signed the pledge this morning."

"You! in a tone of surprise."

"Yes, I signed it."

"Ah, John, after a pause and shaking his head incredulously, 'I cannot credit your word, and am sorry for it!'"

"If I have signed the pledge, and if I am really determined to be a reformed man, will you give me work, Mr. Lankford?"

"The old man thought a few moments, and then said sorrowfully, 'I am afraid of you, John. You are such an old offender on the score of drink, and I have no confidence in your power to keep the pledge.'"

"Then what shall I do?" poor Jarvis exclaimed, in a tone that made the least of the old man thrill for nature and passion were in them. "Now that I am trying in earnest to do better, no one will give me a word of encouragement, or a helping hand. Heaven help me! for I am forsaken of man!"

"Have you been to see Warren?" asked the old man.

"Yes, and he threatened to kick me out of his shop."

"Mason wants a hand, I know. He will not doubt be glad to employ you."

"I've tried him, but he will not give me work."

Mr. Lankford stood thoughtful and irresolute for some moments. He pitted, from his heart, the poor creature who thus implored for work, and whose trembling hand indicated that he had forborne, at least for a time his accustomed stimulus. But he did not wish to have him in his shop, for he had no confidence in him. At length he said, "John, if you will bring me a certificate from Mr. Robinson that you have signed the pledge, I will give you another trial; but if you disappoint me again, you and I have done forever."

The countenance of Jarvis brightened up instantly. He turned quickly away, without reply, and hurried off to the shop of Mr. Robinson, the Secretary of the society he had joined. The certificate was obtained.

"And you have joined our society, John?" Lankford said, in a changed tone, as he glanced over the certificate.

"Indeed I have, Mr. Lankford."

"And you are in earnest."

"If I was in earnest in anything in my life, I am in earnest now."

"Keep to your pledge then, John, and all will be well. While you are a sober man I prefer you to any journeyman in my shop. Keep sober, and you shall never want a day's work while I am in business."

"By the aid of Him who knows how much in earnest I am, I will be true to my pledge," Jarvis said firmly, and in a solemn tone.

"Only trust in him, John, and he will be strength in your weakness."

"I will try, the humble answer."

The poor man was now shown his place in the shop, and once again he resumed his work, though under a far different impulse than he had, for years, turned him to action. But his nerves were all strung. His hand shook so that he could with difficulty use, with the required skill, the implements of his calling. He experienced likewise a sickening, sickening feeling; and at times a dizziness and obscurity of mind would suddenly come over him, exciting the liveliest emotions of fear lest nature would not bear up under so sudden a withdrawal of its accustomed stimulus. Gradually, however, as the mind became insensibly freed from its work, and his body felt the impulse of manual activity, a slight reaction took place and the whole machinery of his physical frame moved on with something approaching to a healthy tone. His hand grew steadier, though it still trembled.

Grand Orange Lodge of British America.

KINGSTON, THE DEERY OF CANADA—GRAND ORANGE LODGE—DEDICATION OF THE NEW HALL—BRILLIANT PROCESSION—IMPRESSIVE INTERESTING CEREMONIES—SPEECH BY THE BRETHREN.

FROM THE TORONTO TELEGRAPH.

KINGSTON, June 23.—The forty-first Annual Session of the Grand Orange Lodge of British America commenced its proceedings in this city on Tuesday at noon.

In the absence of the Hon. J. H. Cameron, Grand Master, Bro. Darcy Boulton, Deputy Grand Master, took the chair. The Royal opened in the illustrious degree of Royal Arch, and after prayer the Session was declared open. Large numbers of brethren were admitted. The number of delegates present was exceedingly large, among whom were the Grand Oranges, and Provincial Grand Masters, and Deputy Grand Masters of Prince Edward Island, New Brunswick, Quebec, Ontario East and West.

The proceeding of the lodge are, of course, not public, but it is understood that a considerable amount of important business was transacted. The first portion of the session was held in the Ontario Hall, City Hall Buildings, but to-day the Grand Lodge adjourned to assist in the dedication of the new hall.

THE NEW HALL.

erected by the brethren of this city at a cost of $20,000. The Grand Orange Institution assembled in the City Hall at 9 a.m. A procession was formed, and the Garden Island Orange Band supplied the requisite music. At half-past nine the procession left the City Hall, and passing along King, up Barrie and down Princess street, arrived in front of the Orange Hall shortly after ten o'clock. On entering the Hall I found the audience well filled with ladies and gentlemen, who had been admitted by ticket to witness the ceremony.

In front of the prominent dais stood the beautiful model of the Ark of the Covenant, with its finished mercy seat, over which the carved cherubim looked down in awe and wonder. Conspicuous among its emblems are the tables of the law, the golden cup, and Aaron's rod; and its surroundings are crowded with objects of religious and moral instruction. The hall is a fine specimen of modern architecture, and its surroundings are crowded with objects of religious and moral instruction.

THE DEDICATION.

Miss Shannon presided at a powerful-toned parlor organ, while Professor Rayner conducted a choir of amateurs, who discoursed the music selected for the occasion.

Mr. Wm. Shannon, Chairman of the Committee of Management, occupied the chair. As soon as the procession reached the hall, the Grand Marshal entered, followed by two Tylers with drawn swords, and with them Bro. J. J. Flanagan, Grand Master, William Robinson, County Master, and Charles Livingston, District Master, being the representative men of the institution in Kingston. A Tyler then entered, and addressing the chair, said:

"Worshipful Master, the Apprentice Boys of Kingston are in waiting."

The Chairman replied, "Let them be admitted." The Apprentices Boys entered, and after being sworn to their duties, the second Tyler, addressing the chair, said, "Worshipful Master, the Apprentice Boys are present."

The Master of the Orange, the Purple and the Blue were admitted; when it came to the next degree, the ritual was somewhat varied. On the announcement being made that the members of the Royal Arch Mark were in attendance, the Chairman said, "Tyler, to the stations." The Tyler, with their drawn swords, formed as with inside the door, under which the brethren entered, and were sworn to their duty; then the Royal Arch Knights of Ireland were admitted, after which the sound of a trumpet was heard, and the Chairman having given the signal, the brethren entered to grace the hall.

will visit. But she could not finish the portrait upon which she had brought the light of day. A candle was now lit, and she took her place by the table, not so much as glancing towards her husband who had seated himself in a chair, and with his youngest child on his knee. Half an hour passed in silence, and then Mrs. Jarvis rose up, having taken the last stitch in the garment she was making, and passed into the adjoining chamber. In a few minutes she came out, with her bonnet and shawl on, and the pair of pantaloons that she had just finished upon her arm.

"Where are you going, Jane? P. her husband asked, in a tone of surprise, that seemed to her ear mingled with disappointment.

"I am going to carry home my work."

"But wouldn't you now, Jane. Wait until after supper."

"Yes, John. I cannot wait until after supper. I should have been home two hours ago."

And she glided from the room before he could make up his mind to explain her by telling her the good news that was trembling on his tongue for fear of her.

A walk of a few minutes brought her to the door of a tall's room, around the front of which hung curtains exposed for sale. This store she entered, and presented the pair of pantaloons to the man who stood behind the counter. His ready glance made a muscle as he took them, and made a careful examination of the work.

"They're 'de,' he said at length, tossing them aside, and resuming his employment of cutting out a garment.

Post Mrs. Jarvis passed, dressing to enter her request. But she was conscious of the painful reflection, as she said:

"Can you pay me for this pair to-night, Mr. Willet?"

"No, I've got more money to pay on Monday than I know where to go, and cannot be a shilling in my pocket."

"But, Mr. Willet, I—"

"I don't want to hear any of your reasons, Mrs. Jarvis. You can have the money to-night; and say, how I don't see fit to pay out money in little drabs. The fact is, and he looked angrily at the woman, you don't stop this pestering me for money every whiff, I won't give you another job. I'm tired of it."

Mrs. Jarvis turned slowly away, and had nearly reached the door, when the thought of her children caused her to pause. To have them want for food, was a thought that she could not bear. Thus far she had been able to keep them from pangs, but she worked all day with unusual industry, although suffering much from pain and debility.

"I cannot go, Mr. Willet, without the money," she said, suddenly turning, and speaking in an excited tone.

"You will go, I'm thinking, madam," was the reply, while the tailor glanced angrily at her and compressed his lips.

"Oh sir, changing her tone, you say what you want, I want it very much."

"O, yes. So you say. But I am used to such make believe. I've got no money out of me to-night, madam. That's a settled point. I'm angry now—so you had better go home at once, if you don't mind. I'll never give you another stitch of work."

Mrs. Jarvis did not pause to hear the concluding words.

"What shall I do?" was the almost despairing question that she asked of herself, as she hurried to her room. She entered the house she made no remark, for there was no one to whom she could tell her troubles and distress. Hungry, and with even the most feeble hope of a word of comfort. Mechanically she proceeded to set the table, and serve up the remains of food that remained. A loaf of bread, and a few slices of cold meat, made up her little store. As they were laid out, she was looking up at the table, there was a loud knock at the door, which Mrs. Jarvis immediately answered.

"Does Mr. Jarvis live here?" asked a rough voice.

"Yes, sir," was the reply.

"Well, here is a barrel of flour and some groceries for him. Shall I bring them in here, ma'am?"

"It's a mistake, sir. They do not belong here. We have bought no barrel of flour or groceries."

"Is not this Mr. Jarvis's?"

"And number 40?"

"Yes."

"Then this is the place—that was the direction given me."

"Yes, this is the place—bring them in," spoke up Jarvis in an animated tone.

The man of course obeyed. First he rolled in a barrel of flour, then came a number of packages, evidently containing groceries; and finally, one or two pieces of meat, and sundry lots of vegetables.

Jane looked on with stupid and bewildered air. When the man had departed she turned to her husband and said:

"John, where did these things come from?"

"I bought them, Jane."

"You bought them?"

"Yes, I bought them."

"And pray, John, what did you buy them with?"

"With the shilling you gave me on Monday."

"John, what do you mean?"

"It is true, Jane, that that shilling I sent you to the Temperance Society, and then went to work at Mr. Lankford's. Here is the result of a week's work, besides this silver shilling, which I still retained, after making the purchases."

"Oh, John, John, cried Jane, bursting into tears, do not again mock my hopes. I cannot bear much more."

"The strength of him, Jane, who promised to help us was weak. I will not disappoint the hopes I now revive," said Jarvis, slowly and solemnly.

continuation of same. These precautions are so obvious and simple that people do not regard them. Were they complicated and expensive, their use would be more general.

The Princess Theatre—At the Canadiana on the 24th inst., the United States Grand Jury presented twenty-five indictments against the French raiders. General Starr, Colonel Thompson and Capt. Mannix separately, and one against Thompson and Starr jointly. No. 1, Mannix, and Starr will be tried on Monday.

Fire—Shortly after 2 o'clock this afternoon, a fire broke out in the old frame building, corner of Front and West Streets, owned by Mr. H. Brennan. The building was partially destroyed before, and had been under repair for a year. The flames spread with great rapidity, favored by a strong breeze blowing, and in a short time the old structure was a sheet of flame, which threatened to destroy a small new frame house immediately adjoining. The fire engines were soon on the ground, and No. 2, a steam engine, worked very quickly and did good service in saving the property adjoining. The steamer, after some difficulty, worked with great effect for some time, but the fire was not entirely destroyed. The fire was, no doubt, the work of an incendiary. No insurance.

CONCENTRATED LYE.

AMONGST the many imitations of this celebrated article is one by a Druggist in Montreal, for which he has borrowed the name Extract of Soap, and by the way, perhaps he can calculate us to what Extract of Soap means. Well this individual, whose lines of dress and countenance would seem to have been developed, that he has tried his hand on the majority of popular articles which have been brought out for the last few years. This imitator, this borrower of another's property, has been brought on the reputation of an old established house, of which, by a strange disposition of Providence, he has got the management, is raising of the Extract on the public in place of the genuine. Purchasers will notice that the "genuine" has the subscriber's address stamped on each tin. For sale by all the leading Druggists and Grocers throughout the Dominion.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, TUESDAY, JUNE 28.

ARRIVAL—The steamer "Melway," with a consignment of emigrants from London, passed Father Point at 11:30 p.m. yesterday.

LIGHTNING—A great deal of very vivid "sheet lightning" greatly attended upon, extremely hot weather, was observable in the western sky last night.

OCULIST AND ACQUIT—Dr. J. D. Stewart, the celebrated oculist and oculist in law at the Duke House, and may be consulted there until Monday the 4th of July. Persons afflicted with diseases of the eyes or ears not neglect to call on the Dr. as he stands unrivaled in his specialty.

DISTINGUISHED VISITOR—Lieut. Governor Howard and Hon. J. S. McDonald, Premier of Ontario, expected to arrive by tonight's express from Toronto, in order to be present at the University Commencement and Alumni dinner at Morrisburg. During Governor Howard's stay in town, he will be the guest of the Hon. L. Wallbridge.

COOL BURGESS—Cool Burgess and troupe have arrived in town, and will give one of their unequalled exhibitions this evening in Ontario Hall. Cool is probably the best performer in his line on the Continent, and has with him a first class troupe. They are only here one evening.

A HURRICANE—The storm on Sunday last did a good deal of damage in some parts of Hastings and Haverhill. The wind blew a perfect hurricane, sweeping away fences, arched barns, and uprooting trees. Where the wind had a fair chance, it took every tree by the roots. A large number of fruit trees were destroyed.

FROM RED RIVER—News has been received from Red River up to the 11th of June. Bullitt is still in the city, and is said to remain to deliver up the Government to Col. Wolsey. Riotous was hourly expected. The New Nation is being expected at the appointment of Mr. Archibald as Governor. Grasshoppers had made their appearance and were doing considerable damage.

EXPORTS TO THE UNITED STATES—The following are the exports from Kingston to the United States for the fortnight ending June 20th:—Horses, 10; cows, 80; paper bags, 4 bales; household goods, skins, 65; eggs, 4,737 dozen; hardware, 13 cases; railroad ties, 16,771; pig iron, 150 tons; iron ore, 540 tons; scrap iron, 1,583 tons; Laths, 64,000; Lumber, 283,105 ft.; celled, 69,300 ft.; oats, 2,130 bush; salt, 9,000; shingle wood, 130 cords; shingles, 1,184 cu. Total value, $97,493.02.

MILITARY SCHOOL—The following is a list of names of those who were admitted to the Military School at Kingston on Friday last:—A youth named Myers, residing with his parents on Queen Street, passed his examination at the Military School short time ago and received his certificate on Friday last; he was also the recipient of a Government cheque for $50, the proceeds of which he quietly placed in his pocket and made tracks for the United States. He was discharged and disappointed of all hopes as the lad forgot to pay for his board bill.

WARNING TO SWIMMERS—This morning Constable White succeeded, after a chase, in arresting one of a number of boys who were swimming in the dune at Coleman's dam. The officer, a boy of about 14 years, was brought before the Police Magistrate, but was allowed to go on stating that he was from the country and was ignorant of the law by law. As the Constable crossed the bridge a cry of "police" was raised by some boys who were on the watch, and the alarm being given in time, the knowing ones escaped. This sort of thing will not avail in future, however, for Constables destined for duty during the summer wear plain clothes. The authorities are determined to put a stop to this lawless business, and will show little mercy to future offenders.

Albert University.

Today was the matriculation class day, the admission exercises having been held in the College Chapel at 2 p.m., and the meeting of the Alumni for general business at 4 p.m. The Alumni lecture will be delivered by J. H. Bell, Esq., M.A., at 8 p.m., the subject being "Raleigh in the Tower."

The annual convocation for admission to degrees and distribution of prizes, takes place to-morrow in Ontario Hall. The occasion promises to be an interesting one, and the interest will be added to by the presence of the Lieutenant Governor and the Premier of Ontario. We trust to see a large attendance of the portion of the public who are interested in the spread of a high order of education. The Alumni dinner takes place in Ontario Hall in the evening at 8 o'clock, and will also be attended by Governor Howard and Hon. J. S. McDonald. This expected to be a pleasant occasion of old students and friends.

Grand Junction Railway.

MEETING TO CONSIDER PROSPECTS OF AIDING THIS PROJECT.

In accordance with previous announcement, a meeting was held last night for the above purpose in the Town Hall, and was largely attended by our most wealthy and influential citizens.

R. S. LAMONT, Esq., was appointed Secretary.

THOMAS KILGUS, Esq., President of the Board of Trade, in the absence of the Mayor was called to the chair, and opened the meeting by stating impartially the history, and past and present position of the project, and inviting discussion thereon.

He called upon M. Borell, Esq., M.P., to move the first resolution.

In doing so, Mr. Borell explained the circumstances under which this scheme was being revived, and informed the meeting of the results of the meetings held through out the line of the proposed road.

In Peterborough they found the people decidedly in favor of the road, provided financial arrangements could be made with the Grand Trunk Railway. At Keweenaw they were greatly disappointed, there they had expected opposition, but found the people convinced by calculation that the road would benefit them. At Campbellford, the feeling was still more in favor of the road.

In Stirling, however, the people were cautious of increased taxation, but when they were shown how much they would be benefited, they would enter heartily into the project.

Only upon railway for the people of Belleville to consider whether it was in their interests to assist in the construction of the road.

He had great confidence in railways, and showed how they affected the agricultural, and how towns and cities were benefited by them. He pointed out how people in Belleville had been helped by the idea of a bankrupt town like Cobourg, ever succeeding in getting the Marmora Road built, yet it had been built and the County was the better for it.

They had ridiculed the idea of a road from Belleville to the Madoc Road, but Mr. Borell said that as large as he assessed value of property, ever having her road extended; yet it was now being done.

That said, while others urged action in reference to the Madoc Road, Mr. Borell said that the idea of a road ever being built in Kingston, and contended it was useless to spend money to secure a trade they already had, yet there was every likelihood from what he could learn, as Mr. Flint would tell them, of that road being built, and he wished them success. Would Belleville continue in a state of torpor and allow her trade to be drawn from her? If so, let her move.

That is the question at issue, and it is said to remain to deliver up the Government to Col. Wolsey. Riotous was hourly expected. The New Nation is being expected at the appointment of Mr. Archibald as Governor. Grasshoppers had made their appearance and were doing considerable damage.

ALBERT UNIVERSITY. Today was the matriculation class day, the admission exercises having been held in the College Chapel at 2 p.m., and the meeting of the Alumni for general business at 4 p.m. The Alumni lecture will be delivered by J. H. Bell, Esq., M.A., at 8 p.m., the subject being "Raleigh in the Tower."

The annual convocation for admission to degrees and distribution of prizes, takes place to-morrow in Ontario Hall. The occasion promises to be an interesting one, and the interest will be added to by the presence of the Lieutenant Governor and the Premier of Ontario. We trust to see a large attendance of the portion of the public who are interested in the spread of a high order of education. The Alumni dinner takes place in Ontario Hall in the evening at 8 o'clock, and will also be attended by Governor Howard and Hon. J. S. McDonald. This expected to be a pleasant occasion of old students and friends.

GRAND JUNCTION RAILWAY. MEETING TO CONSIDER PROSPECTS OF AIDING THIS PROJECT.

In accordance with previous announcement, a meeting was held last night for the above purpose in the Town Hall, and was largely attended by our most wealthy and influential citizens.

R. S. LAMONT, Esq., was appointed Secretary.

THOMAS KILGUS, Esq., President of the Board of Trade, in the absence of the Mayor was called to the chair, and opened the meeting by stating impartially the history, and past and present position of the project, and inviting discussion thereon.

He called upon M. Borell, Esq., M.P., to move the first resolution.

In doing so, Mr. Borell explained the circumstances under which this scheme was being revived, and informed the meeting of the results of the meetings held through out the line of the proposed road.

In Peterborough they found the people decidedly in favor of the road, provided financial arrangements could be made with the Grand Trunk Railway. At Keweenaw they were greatly disappointed, there they had expected opposition, but found the people convinced by calculation that the road would benefit them. At Campbellford, the feeling was still more in favor of the road.

In Stirling, however, the people were cautious of increased taxation, but when they were shown how much they would be benefited, they would enter heartily into the project.

Only upon railway for the people of Belleville to consider whether it was in their interests to assist in the construction of the road.

He had great confidence in railways, and showed how they affected the agricultural, and how towns and cities were benefited by them. He pointed out how people in Belleville had been helped by the idea of a bankrupt town like Cobourg, ever succeeding in getting the Marmora Road built, yet it had been built and the County was the better for it.

They had ridiculed the idea of a road from Belleville to the Madoc Road, but Mr. Borell said that as large as he assessed value of property, ever having her road extended; yet it was now being done.

That is the question at issue, and it is said to remain to deliver up the Government to Col. Wolsey. Riotous was hourly expected. The New Nation is being expected at the appointment of Mr. Archibald as Governor. Grasshoppers had made their appearance and were doing considerable damage.

EXPORTS TO THE UNITED STATES—The following are the exports from Kingston to the United States for the fortnight ending June 20th:—Horses, 10; cows, 80; paper bags, 4 bales; household goods, skins, 65; eggs, 4,737 dozen; hardware, 13 cases; railroad ties, 16,771; pig iron, 150 tons; iron ore, 540 tons; scrap iron, 1,583 tons; Laths, 64,000; Lumber, 283,105 ft.; celled, 69,300 ft.; oats, 2,130 bush; salt, 9,000; shingle wood, 130 cords; shingles, 1,184 cu. Total value, $97,493.02.

MILITARY SCHOOL—The following is a list of names of those who were admitted to the Military School at Kingston on Friday last:—A youth named Myers, residing with his parents on Queen Street, passed his examination at the Military School short time ago and received his certificate on Friday last; he was also the recipient of a Government cheque for $50, the proceeds of which he quietly placed in his pocket and made tracks for the United States. He was discharged and disappointed of all hopes as the lad forgot to pay for his board bill.

WARNING TO SWIMMERS—This morning Constable White succeeded, after a chase, in arresting one of a number of boys who were swimming in the dune at Coleman's dam. The officer, a boy of about 14 years, was brought before the Police Magistrate, but was allowed to go on stating that he was from the country and was ignorant of the law by law. As the Constable crossed the bridge a cry of "police" was raised by some boys who were on the watch, and the alarm being given in time, the knowing ones escaped. This sort of thing will not avail in future, however, for Constables destined for duty during the summer wear plain clothes. The authorities are determined to put a stop to this lawless business, and will show little mercy to future offenders.

In Peterborough they found the people decidedly in favor of the road, provided financial arrangements could be made with the Grand Trunk Railway. At Keweenaw they were greatly disappointed, there they had expected opposition, but found the people convinced by calculation that the road would benefit them. At Campbellford, the feeling was still more in favor of the road.

Mr. Wesley said that American railways were not aided by municipal grants, but by Government appropriations of land, and he contended our Government for not doing likewise.

The resolution was then put and carried with enthusiasm; only four men and a boy voting against it.

Mr. Borell said he had been called upon to move the following resolution, which he would read:

"That although the advantages of such a railway would be general and the construction of the proposed road would open up new sources of enterprise to our manufacturers, and merchants would greatly benefit, and the population generally, and would develop our shipping interests and improve our harbor. It is the opinion of the meeting that the Grand Junction Railway would be a boon to this section, and to the people of this town in this adding to our wealth and material prosperity."

In moving this resolution, he was greatly surprised at the position taken by Dr. Hope. He could not understand how a gentleman of his education, his ability, and practical experience, could oppose a scheme which would do so much good to the town, and to the County as the proposed railway. As to Mr. Cronk's opposition, it was to be expected. He anticipated the same stereotyped speech which that gentleman had given at every public meeting where there were improvements proposed, and he was not disappointed. It reminded him of a speech delivered by a French member of Parliament, which that gentleman had given at every public meeting where there were improvements proposed, and he was not disappointed. speaker, and said that if Belleville wished to be a member of the County Council, it was not so much for fun to determine now how the necessary funds were to be raised, as to decide whether it would be of advantage to the growing interests of the town.

Now he would ask the Councilmen of the town, Samuel Ward if they were not ashamed of the dilapidated old buildings that decorated that part of the town. Yet they could not help it, there was no back-slopping on the strength of which to renew its vigor, and that property would inevitably follow the construction of this road, and elevators and mercantile warehouses upon the banks of the river, and the houses upon the slopes of the old fortifications. He then explained on the map the various other routes and schemes by which the town and County would be benefited, and that the road would be a boon to this section, and to the people of this town in this adding to our wealth and material prosperity."

Mr. Cronk, after commenting upon Mr. Flint's motives in encouraging the scheme, and that it was a family of brothers, the Wallbridges, in town who had built the road and would build this before they had the road built, and that the road would be a boon to this section, and to the people of this town in this adding to our wealth and material prosperity."

Latest from Fort Gary.

THE ARRIVAL OF THE TROOPS DESIGNED BY THE NAME OF THE PEOPLE—THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT SATISFIED—THE "NEW NATION" ON THE MONTANA BILL.

Fort Gary letters to the 11th June express much satisfaction at the appointment of Mr. Archibald as Lieutenant-Governor of the new Province of Manitoba. He is expected to arrive with the expedition.

The same paper says, all the troops had arrived at Fort William on the 28th ult., where they remained three weeks. Their route from the Lake of the Woods westward, over land, had since been by rail, and they will proceed landed by Winnipeg River, and are not looked for at Fort Gary before the middle of July.

A long editorial headed "Right or Wrong?" goes on to prove that the Red River people have, since the late war, and have been misunderstood—that the English and Canadian press begin to acknowledge this, and that the surrendering of the Government by the Hudson Bay Company in the arrival of Mr. McDougall, made it necessary that a Provisional Government should be formed, and that the extreme measures which followed were brought about by illegal Canadian interference.

There seems to be disposition on the part of the Provisional Government to accept the Manitoba Bill, as the following extract from Reil's organ indicates:—"The Bill for the Government of our Province appears, so far as we can learn unobjectionably to grant our demands, except the control of the lands of the Province, which is of no great importance, as the large reserve is ample for those of our people who wish to benefit themselves by it. All those in actual possession will now receive free deeds of ownership from the Government, and very ample representation, both local and Dominion, will give us sufficient power to prevent any appropriation of our lands that will not meet with the consent of our people."

OVER-EXERCISE, either of body or mind, produces debility and disease. The usual remedy is to take some stimulant, the effect of which is the same as giving a tired horse the whip instead of ease. The true way is to fortify the system with a permanent tonic like the Ferraval Spring Water, of iron, which gives strength and vigor to the whole system.

The J. S. Foster's Tonic is acknowledged by all who have tried it (and their name is Legion) to be the best, most reliable, and most efficacious remedy ever used for that disease. Sold by Druggists.
